2. What kinds of personal information does this service use?

When someone visits the MCRactive website, we use a third party service, Google Analytics, to collect standard internet log information and details of visitor behaviour patterns. The information that we automatically collect when you visit our website includes the following personal information:

- Your internet service provider (ISP)
- Your IP address

It also collects the following information:

- Your web browser type and version number
- The number of colours your screen is displaying
- Your operating system
- The URL (web address or link) you clicked on to get there

If we do want to collect personally identifiable information through our website, we will be up front about this. We will make it clear when we collect personal information and will explain what we intend to do with it.

3. What is your personal information used for?

MCRactive does this to find out things such as the number of visitors to the various parts of the sites, and to improve the service by adapting pages to display correctly on many different platforms. This information is only processed in a way which does not identify anyone. We do not make, and do not allow, Google to make any attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our website.

For more information on Google Analytics, please click here to visit see their privacy notice.

4. What is the lawful basis we are relying on to use personal information?

We collect and use this information under the provisions contained in the General Data Protection Regulation, Article 6. Specifically we collect the information referred to in paragraph 2 above under 'legitimate interests of the controller' provisions. The information gathering enables us to refine our website service and make it more responsive and useful for users.

If you object to us collating this information, then you can opt out of Google Analytics by clicking here. We suggest that you read more about the use of cookies on our Cookies Page before you chose to opt out.

5. Where has your personal information come from?

Your personal information has been provided by you as the data subject directly for this service.

6. Who will we share your personal data with?

The personal information that we obtain via Google Analytics will not be shared with third parties. This information is only processed in a way which does not identify anyone. We do not make, and do not allow, Google to make any attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our website.

7. What rights do you have in relation to your personal information?
